MILTON - EDGERTON C. T. A.

There were 252 cows on test in the Milton-Edgerton Cow Testing association during November, seventy-five of which produced between 20 and 30 pounds of fat, 50 between 30 and 40 and 24 over 40 pounds. The report shows 242 herd records. Grant S. Rice, whose herd topped the list, had the most 40 pound cows. The herd of E. J. Cron had five 40 pounders for the month. Most of the cattle in the association are beginning a new lactation period and with proper feeding will make most creditable records. The association expects to hold a reorganization meeting.

The following table gives the names and records of the cows in the association which have produced more than 50 pounds of butterfat during the period of 30 days ending November 30, 1923.

NOTED CHEESEMAKER WILL GIVE LECTURE

P. J. Casper, Outagamie county, premier cheesemaker of Wisconsin, is to appear at the thirty-second annual cheesemakers' convention at Milwaukee, Jan. 9, 10 and 11, to outline his own successful methods of making Wisconsin cheese.

For the past 30 years Casper has been the most consistent winner of prizes at shows and exhibitions throughout the country. His cheese, of uniform quality and clean flavor of his cheese has been the envy of the Badger cheesemakers. One room of his home at Bear Creek contains nothing but the trophies which he has won, and it is full of them.

Interested in the tremendous strides which the cheese industry of Wisconsin has made, and anxious to improve the quality of the already famous brands, Casper has consented to explain his methods to the assembled cheesemakers. A number of cheesemakers who have won prizes and who have learned their methods while in Casper's factories will be present at the convention and will enter into the discussions.

BABY CHICK PLAN OF STATE POPULAR

Baby chicks have joined the ranks of farm products marketed under government supervision. Chick hatcheries which pass the critical scrutiny of state inspectors are accredited if they meet the requirements set by the state.

Several new states will have systems of state accredited hatcheries very soon, according to J. B. Hayes of the Wisconsin college of agriculture. Wisconsin has been the pioneer in this field with a system in operation for three years. Illinois has her plans completed to start this season. Michigan, New York, Iowa, Missouri and other states are planning to begin accrediting hatcheries before long. Some of them may get started the coming season. Their plans are all modeled after the Wisconsin scheme. Wisconsin's system, as Hayes explains it, is entirely voluntary with the hatcheries. They apply for inspection and accreditation and pay all the expenses. The state division of markets and the poultry department of the university co-operate in the service. Chicks sent out from accredited hatcheries are identified by yellow accrediting tags attached to the package. Only chicks produced by inspected hens and distributed through accredited hatcheries may be sold under the yellow tag.

Accrediting has proved very popular in Wisconsin. The number of hatcheries increased more than 100 per cent in 1922, the records show. The incubator capacity increased more than 200 per cent. Most of the larger hatcheries in the state are now accredited. Wisconsin hatcheries do not supply the local demand so there is no experience to show how accrediting will work in interstate trade.

JEFFERSON COUNTY

FT. ATKINSON

Fort Atkinson—Main street, which was darkened a week preceding Christmas owing to the death of three members of the fire company, was lighted Christmas Eve and, early in the evening, the Christmas carolers began to sing in the downtown district. The carolers were singing from all the churches, forming a community chorus under the leadership of Herbert Barget, who drilled them in the Christmas carols. Crowds followed them from block to block as they sang. Christmas morning the carolers sang in front of 40 homes where there were sick people and at the local hospital and at Forest Lawn sanatorium. Sixty people took part in this community chorus.

Christmas exercises and Christmas trees were at all the churches here. The tree owned by Phil Jones, on Jones avenue, attracted much attention. One of the large evergreens in his yard was decorated with tinsel ornaments and lights. Crowds visited this tree every night as soon as the lights were turned on.

LIMITATION MEET IS NOT EXPECTED

President Coolidge Has No Idea of Drawing Powers Into Another.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington—President Coolidge has not the slightest intention at present of drawing the United States and other powers into a second conference for limiting aircraft, submarines and land armaments.

It has been disclosed that the executive believes the ground was so well covered by the Washington conference of 1921 that further discussion would be futile. In addition, the president's time for the next few months will be so occupied that he is not seeking additional tasks, such as another arms conference would impose, unless there are most attractive promises of accomplishment.

Against New Party
Both the White House and the state department are on record against a new party, each advancing the reason that the possibilities for achieving anything definite had been exhausted two years ago.

The movement in Great Britain for an attempt to limit submarines and aircraft was outlined by the platform of the British Labor party. Reaction here was not marked until now, when the administration's attitude was revealed.

Officials would gladly consider the calling of a second conference if given in advance adequate assurances that something would come of it. So far as limiting aircraft is concerned, it was pointed out that all parties to the arms conference agreed that commercial planes are so readily convertible for military use that any attempt to curtail military aircraft would react against the commercial development of this new and speedy means of communication.

Submarine Limitation
The United States proposed a limitation on submarines. The British delegation went even further, proposing to eliminate the submarine altogether. France refused to agree to limit submarines, and for that reason no progress was made in this regard. This, in turn, prevented an agreement for the limitation of light cruisers and other auxiliary surface craft which are the natural enemy of submarines.

The cemeteries thus visited included those of Belleau Wood, St. Mihiel, Verdun, Ypres, Montfaucon, Tancourt, Soissons, Suresnes and Wargemont, Belgium.

HI JOHNSON WILL MAKE WISCONSIN A BATTLE GROUND

leaders because of LaFollette will have to conduct a different kind of campaign in Wisconsin to that they are planning for other states, where their strategy will be to win the undecided Republican voter against Coolidge.

Fight Against Rob

And while the Johnson campaign in a national sense is a campaign against Coolidge to have any chance of success in Wisconsin he must win the votes of the Robbies. So the appeal of Hi and his followers will be to the LaFollette men.

Johnson spokesmen will point out that Rob has absolutely no chance for the nomination, that a vote for LaFollette is a half vote for Coolidge. On the other hand they will try to prove that Johnson has a real chance for the nomination.

The Californian will be painted as the soul of western progress. The president will be painted as the epitome of New England reactionaries. Jimmie will be heralded as the one man who has a chance to floor Coolidge in the convention. The Johnson men believe that they will come out of the Badger state with some district delegates and maybe a delegate or so at large.

Meanwhile the Democrats will cross into the Badger state shortly after the dying away of the revelry with which the New Year is greeted. Both McAdoo and Underwood will enter the Wisconsin Democratic primary and their respective tongues are ready for a fight to the death.

Both Underwood and McAdoo have been angling in Wisconsin for sometime. Lieutenants for each in a number of counties have been decided. The McAdoo-Underwood campaign promises to be a strictly wet and dry proposition, with Underwood having the wets and McAdoo the dries.

The question of how Wisconsin is to get 25 delegates in the next Republican National Convention is yet undecided. The only one solution suggested is that if only four delegates at large voted on in the primary the convention sent there four delegates and authorize them to cast seven votes. As a percent it is pointed out that Texas elected eight delegates at large to the last Democratic National Convention and as the state was only entitled to four votes at large, each delegate was given a half a vote.

Harry Gray, one of the famous "silent Sacramento group," said that of the 165 prisoners there was not 1 per cent but who were more strengthened in their ideas concerning the working class. He believed the men were better men for their cause than when they went in. In prison, Gray explained, they had had time to books and study, so now they all would join the I. W. W. ranks and "work for the overthrow of the capitalist regime."

F. J. Gallagher of Kansas City, Kas., declared the spirit of the men was not broken. Gallagher was sentenced to eight years. He had served twelve years in the American navy.

Taken from Cells Again

The prisoners received a suit, railroad tickets and $5 from the government and their bank accounts. Edward Quigley, a tubercular patient, had the most money—$422. The total amount of their accounts was $5,331. That had been given by individuals and organizations.

Warden Biddle handed each of the men a check for $61, the gift of an unnamed "philanthropist" and intended as a rebuke. The least amount of money any one had was $39.

James P. Thompson, Seattle, Wash., was regarded as the leader. He was born in Scotland and was a chemistry graduate at Dublin college. Thompson complained that the stomachs of the men were not prop-

THEATER COLLAPSE INQUIRY TO END

Thursday's Session to Be Final in Case—Steel Comparisons Due.

Comparison of engineering reports will feature the resumption of evidence in the long drawn-out investigation by the coroner's jury to fix the blame for the collapse of the Saxe Brothers' theatre in Janesville Sept. 13, which cost the life of one man and injured others. The jury will meet in the municipal court here Thursday at 10:30 o'clock with Coroner Lynn Whaley presiding.

To what extent the hearing will succeed in fixing the responsibility for the collapse of the theatre and wall of the theatre depends greatly on the report of City Manager Henry Traxler. It is understood his computations are ready for presentation. There was a delay at the last hearing to allow further time for the city manager to prepare his report.

Not Able to Decide
As the inquiry now stands the six man jury has declared that it is not able to make a specific verdict as to why Claude Cocke, plumbing contractor, collapsed when with but little warning, the auditorium roof of the building collapsed, wrecking the east wall, just a month before the public amusement institution was to be opened to the public.

The most tangible fact that has been presented to the jury is that the design of the building involved expert testimony. The jury has heard testimony from the building expert called to testify has found fault with the methods employed of supporting the pent house, which was to be the machinery for ventilating the theatre.

The jury is expected to decide whether the theory advanced by the Wisconsin building experts on the change made by the contractor, W. S.
Willis in changing the walls of the theatre, is correct. The engineering reports are expected to a large degree to decide whether this theory will stand the test of figures and tests.

Hopes to Conclude
The steel work has been given standards tests and found sufficient "I am hopeful," reports Coroner Lynn Whaley. "There has been considerable time and money, sometimes of which I have had to spend to fix the responsibility. It isn't easy to fix the responsibility and how the jury accepts the computations."

Police have begun keeping a register of all "guests" sleeping nights in dozen states have been registered. Their but when it came to the next name, he gave up. The police officer, who was asked the officer to finish out

Seventeen spent Christmas Eve in the lock-up and rolls on Christmas morning. Cigars were passed to them after the meal. The register shows 15 "sleepers" rested behind the bars Christmas night.

It was an unusually quiet Christmas for the police department. Only one arrest was made for intoxication, and that was on Christmas Eve. The man was released Tuesday morning without being ordered to appear in court.

CAFETERIA BIDS AROUND $11,000

Range from $10,500 to $11,700 —No Selection Is Made.

Another step toward equipping the high school cafeteria was taken Wednesday morning, when bids were opened at the high school by the board of education. Several bids on the complete equipment were within the appropriation provided. Many alternates were offered and the board deferred action until all can be scanned that the greatest amount of money possible be saved. The city law bidder on the equipment was complete was A. L. Kiefer, Milwaukee, with a price of $10,422, with installation promised within 60 days.
Others were: Western Business and Lathrop, Chicago, $11,319; The Stearns company, Chicago, $11,742; $11,742; Albert Jick company, Chicago, $11,713.34; Kowalsky Handware company, Milwaukee, $11,448.
All of these bids, with the exception of Albert Jick were on the specification of the original proposition made by the board.

Many alternate bids were provided in substitution of various materials and many bids were offered on certain parts of the equipment by firms not carrying a full line of cafeteria furnishings.

The Northwestern Furniture company, Milwaukee, presented a bid of $4,523 for the 102 tables and 410 chairs. The Monroe Hardware company, Chicago, bidding on the tables and chairs, offered installation for $4,625.80. The Wiles Laboratory Furniture company, Manitowish water, offered a price for the tables and chairs of $2,240. An opaque glass top, instead of porcelain vitrolite top as specified.

The Kewanee Manufacturing company, Kewanee, Ill., also bid for tables with a porcelain top and for $1,718. Tables with an opyx top would be supplied by the Northwestern School Supply company of Milwaukee at $1,225 each.

Variety Is Offered A wide variety of equipment is offered and it will take several days to make an exact list of the bids before the board can act for the best interests of the school and city. The equipment for which the board proposes to let contracts will furnish the cafeteria with the exception of an ice machine.

Present at the opening of bids Wednesday morning were President Mrs. Helen Sullivan, Commissioner of Education, and Mrs. D. W.
Holmes and Supt. Frank O. Holt.
Several concerns were represented.

CONGRESS HOLDS TO FORM—IN ACTION
publican majority in the senate and house to a slight majority. This was in large part due to the fact that congressional action was relatively little in the first two years of the Harding administration.

Dem's See Victory
The democrats are confident the country is in a pessimistic mood and that the next election will see the pendulum swing completely in their direction. At the same time, they admit that their future will last just as long as they prove equal to the public demand for a congress that will do something.

The entire business future of the American people is tied up in the legislative program. The presidential campaign has begun. The only chance there is of congressional action in the manifestation by the election of its teeth. Mr. Coolidge's friends are sure he has shown his willingness to do things that they are wondering how much he might suffer from a bad record by congress.

Performance Demanded
The insurmountable task of leadership almost impossible but the country isn't interested in excuses but in performance. The outstanding fact is that congress is not doing anything and shows at the moment little sign of arriving at an agreement on anything. The handwriting on the wall has been disclosed. After the holiday recess, the republican leadership will attempt to rally its forces in a final attempt to make a record.

NAVY IS SHORT OF MEDICAL TALENT

Opportunities of Civil Life Keeping Corps Limited, Says Report.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington—Graduates of medical, dental and pharmacy schools leaves and nurses attending schools are finding the opportunities of civil life so attractive that the medical department of the navy is having increased difficulty in getting suitably trained personnel for its work.

Surgeon General R. R. Sitt, in his annual report made public today, admits that despite an intensive campaign during the year including the sending of 12,000 personal letters to young doctors, it was not possible to keep the medical corps up to its authorized strength.

"It is apparent," Dr. Sitt said, "that the inducements offered by the navy are not sufficient to attract the young physician. It seems, therefore, that some legislative action will be necessary in the near future if the medical corps of the navy is to be recruited up to the strength for which appropriations are made by congress, or even if the services considered by resignation, retirement and death, are to be filled."

Health conditions generally in the navy during the past year were better than in previous years, the report said. The death rate of 2.23 per 1,000 was "the lowest the navy ever had," and admissions to the sick list also were unusually low.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT DRIVE RESUMED

Seek to Wind Up Campaign, With Entry Closing
Date, Jan. 6

In an effort to close up the campaign to finance the entry of 600 five-man teams from this city in the Wisconsin state bowling tournament to be held here, Jan. 15 to Feb. 18, the team captains were at work Wednesday gathering loose ends. A number of promises were made early in the drive with payment to be made at a later date.
It is these payments that now are being taken.

With the last day for entries less than two weeks away, the closing drive is being pushed. The drive workers are anxious, it was said at the chamber of commerce Wednesday, to finish their work. In the latter part of the week, Dr. S. F. Richards is to have charge of the work. Oscar N. Nelson, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce and president of the Wisconsin Bowling association, will speak to bowlers at the Grebe & Newman alloys on getting the necessary men to bowl. Two plans are being considered. One plan is to select each of the active bowlers to round up two other men and the other would be to have active bowlers promise to appear like times in the past. In the latter case, the first appearance would count in chances for prizes.

ABANDON HOPE FOR FRENCH DIRIGIBLE, LOST OVER AFRICA

found means of sending messages if the wireless were out of action, either by dropping them or by sending down a messenger by parachute.
The principal hope fostered here is that the Dixmude has landed in the desert, whence it might take days for news to come.

Naval Lieut. Du Plessis De Grendah, who commanded the Dixmude, was the officer who brought her from Germany with her German crew when she was surrendered under the peace treaty. He has continued to command her ever since but this was to be his last voyage, as he was about to be promoted.
The Dixmude, as Zeppelin L-72, took very little part in the late war, except for the fact that it was drawn from her main structure, each with a 300 horse power motor. Between September 25 and September 30, she established a record for non-stop flight with a total of 118 hours flying.

M. Paroux, the aviation expert, writing today to L'Auto, takes the loss of the Dixmude for granted and expresses the hope that it will induce France to abandon her plan of creating a fleet of dirigibles. He denies the contention advanced by those favoring the project that the late war showed that dirigibles can be of great utility in naval operations, saying experience has shown the contrary.

He quotes Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's reminiscences, stating that Count Zeppelin himself admitted that dirigibles were out of date as war machines and declares that the future mastery of the air belonged to airplanes.

HIGH TENSION TOWER LINES To carry the "high potential" activities of Life, strongly built, well-designed financial lines must necessarily lead from horizon to horizon.

There is something impressive in the majestic sweep of the man-made electric high-tension tower-lines that cover south central Wisconsin with a net-work of light and power. The very outline of the steel supporting towers, as they stand on some hill against the sky, is symbolical of the great progress of the twentieth century of the Christian era. Yet deeper than that is the thought that thousands of men dreamed and planned and wrought to bring these high tension tower-lines into being—for the betterment of mankind.

With the advent of winter—and its loads of sleet and ice—large "factors of safety" have to be figured by the engineers to keep the towers standing, so that the electric lines will be in commission during those hours when they are most needed.

And so to carry the "high potentials"—the full possibilities of life—rigid tower-like principles and strong financial cables are needed to so bind our days and years together that they may carry out the manifold desires and ambitions of life.

The purchase of Wisconsin Power, Light & Heat Co.'s safe, dependable, 7% preferred shares will assist materially in raising those towers of purpose from which your "high-tension" lines can carry your "high potential" ambitions to achievement.

You may purchase your shares outright, or on the convenient monthly payment plan of $5.00 per share.

Our New HOSIERY DEPARTMENT

WITH THE NEW BURSON FULL FASHIONED SILK HOSE

An Entirely New Hose That Promises to Be a National Sensation. A Full Case, 720 Pairs, Will Go on Sale Thursday Morning at 8:30. Shown at Brock's, for the First Time in Janesville and Priced at Only $1.00 a Pair.

This is the story of a Hosiery triumph which within a few weeks will re-echo from coast to coast. For over two years the Burson Knitting Mills—known to housewives the country over for a generation, have been testing, experimenting and extending every effort to perfect a truly remarkable silk stocking that could be retailed for one dollar. The great success of their efforts will be demonstrated for the first time in Janesville with the opening of this event tomorrow. We believe you will find it a new and pleasing experience in hosiery buying.

There is no stretched-out tightness around the calf, nor any relaxed cloudiness at the ankle of the new "Vee Weave" Burson. Just as the hand knitters use a different number of stitches at the ankle, the calf, and the knee, so the Burson process shapes the stockings in THE KNITTING. Added to this is a smooth, comfortable foot, knit to fit without a seam—not even across the toe. Burson clad ankles intrigue the most critical eye, so dainty and smart are their lines.

Patented feature silky mercerized fashioned sole, knit in one piece from toe to heel. One process on one machine. No ridge or seam anywhere, even across the toe. Ease for the tender feminine foot.

Mercerized 4-inch garter top. Lengthens the life of the stocking and insures non-slipping garter grip.

HERE IT IS! THE NEW BURSON "VEE" WEAVE—Knit full fashioned with seam back perfectly and permanently shaped to the foot, ankle, leg; for smart style, smooth fit, and severe wear.

These New Burson Hose may be had in a delightful assortment of all the newest colors, sizes 8 1/2 to 10 1/2. Sold three pairs in a box at $2.95 or one pair at $1.00. A smarter fit could not be purchased at any price. You get it for $1.00.

Woven from silky threads, each consisting of four tiny strands twisted together—three strands of pure dye Japanese quality silk and one of imported English fibro-silk—the result is a stocking of beautiful appearance and exceptional strength. We feel highly favored in being chosen first in Janesville to offer you the new Knit Full Fashioned Burson model. You will not want to forego the privilege of being first to try it, and tell your friends about it.

HOLIDAY FEASTS ARE GIVEN NEEDY

Large Number of Families Are Cared for by Salvation Army.

The presents provided by the City Federation of Women for day nursery children who were unable to attend the party on Saturday, were distributed by Captain and Mrs. Boyle Christmas afternoon.

Cadet Frances Allen, who is attending training school in Chicago, arrived here Wednesday morning to spend the holiday vacation. She was accompanied by Cadet Bertina Van Vorst. Cadet Allen and Mrs. Boyle for some years and assisted in the work here before going to Chicago to enter training school in September.
